VOL. IV

DAYTON O. SATURDAY, APRIL 20 1867.

NO. 184.

THE BASIS OF REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT.

Resolved, That the several States composing the United States, are not united on the principle of unlimited submission to their general government, but that by compact, under the style and title of a Constitution of the United States, and of amendments thereto, they constituted a federal government, for special purposes—delegated to that government certain definite powers, reserving each State to itself the residuary mass of right to their self-government; and that whenever the General Government assumes undelegated power, it acts in violation of the compact, and of no force. That to this compact each State accedes as a State, and is an integral party; its consent forming, as to itself, the other party; that the Government created by this compact was not made the exclusive or final judge of the extent of the powers delegated to itself, since that would have made its own will the measure of the powers; but that as in all other cases of compact among powers having no common judge, each party has an equal right to judge for itself, as well of infractions as of the mode and measure of redress—
The First Kentucky Resolution of 1792.

The Philadelphia Corn Exchange has passed a resolution denouncing the illicit distillation of whisky, and expressing the opinion that the present tax can never be collected, and operates only to the benefit of fraudulent manufacturers. It recommends that the tax be reduced to 20 cents a gallon, to be collected at the place of distillation.

A letter received here from the City of Mexico says that Juarez has given orders to his officers to guard Maximilian an escort and honorable treatment to any point on the coast where he shall select a point of embarkation, provided he is captured. The Mexican army, and but for his falsehood in the information that Maximilian is on his way to Mexico City, having been wounded in the arm at Queretaro.

The President to-day informed a committee, appointed by the Senate to call upon him that there was yet business for the Senate to act upon, but it was not of a character to render the continuance of the session necessary, and he would not, therefore, ask Senators to remain. Consequently, the session will, doubtless, adjourn tomorrow, Saturday.

DR. MULLER'S CASE.
One of the Baltimore papers publishes a statement of Dr. H. Henry, of the County of Baltimore, Maryland, who swore on the 11th of December, 1866, that he heard General David Hunter say that the court which tried him never believed that Dr. Muller knew anything of Booth's designs, and that Dr. Muller was the victim of his own insanity, but for his falsehood and perjury, could never have been convicted.South American Troubles.

AMERICAN
WALTHAM WATCHES.L.—We claim, and are prepared to prove, that the American Watches, manufactured at Waltham, Mass., are not only equal, but far superior in the common watches of England, Switzerland, and France.I.—While we admit that it would be difficult to excel the masterpieces of the eminent European manufacturers, and while we do not claim to have made any decisive improvements over them, we do assert and challenge a successful denial, that our superior class of watches are fully equal, in every respect, to the most expensive specimens of foreign chronometrical art.II.—We claim that our Watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for American use, and more easily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market.IV.—The reasons why our Watches possess these advantages over their European rivals are chiefly: First. Because the principle of the division of labor is carried out in our workshops to its extremest limits, not in human industry only, but in machinery as well. Every watch passes through hundreds of hands and hundreds of machines.Second. Because we promptly adopt every new invention to perfect our machinery, and every improvement in the structure of watches.Third. Because in each of the very numerous, minute, and often microscopic parts of which a watch is made up, we attain, by mechanical power, nearly absolute mathematical precision and uniformity, which it is utterly impossible to achieve by manual labor. Wheels, pinions, escapements, balances, springs, and screws—exact counterparts in weight, circumference, and dimensions—are turned out by millions by the merrings, because unswerving, iron hands of machinery. Hence, every watch of any one style is a true copy of its model.V.—These results enable us to defy foreign rivalry, because no similar uniformity and precision is attainable by hand, and because in Waltham alone is machinery exclusively employed in the manufacture of this intricate and delicate mechanism.VI.—Now, as will be seen at once, this similarity in structure reduces the cost of production; it secures uniformity in results; it perpetuates and enhances the quality of the work; it makes it more perfect; and makes it easy to repair any injury sustained, or replace any part that may be lost or destroyed.VII.—In addition to these mechanical advantages, our Watches are simpler in structure, and therefore stronger, and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches. They are composed of from 15 to 300 pieces. In an old English watch there are more than 700 parts.VIII.—We began our experiment in 1853, in the face of a formidable prejudice against American watches. Our system was new and untried. We have steadily increased our facilities, until now we employ over 700 artisans, and sell 70,000 watches a year. Nearly a quarter of a million of our watches are in use to-day in every State of the Union, as well as in the Mexican and British Provinces and Colonies. Their universal popularity is the best proof of their merit that we can produce. They have won their way in spite of every opposition and of immemorial prejudices. Hundreds of dealers all over the country have expressed their preference for our products after a long and practical experience with foreign watches.Any of the grades of Waltham Watches may be purchased of watch dealers generally throughout the country.ROBBINS & APPLETON,
